- FibroScan is a pain free diagnostic test and requires no sedation of any kind.
- For the procedure, you will lie on your back with your right arm raised behind your head and your right abdominal area exposed.
- A nurse will apply a water-based gel to your skin and then place a non-invasive probe over your liver.
- During the exam, you may feel a slight vibration on the skin at the tip of the probe as it delivers ultrasound waves to the area for measuring purposes.
- What are the risks?
There are no risks involved. It is painless and not invasive (meaning it's not carried out inside your body and does not break the skin).
- What are the benefits?
The results of the scan can help your doctor find out about the level of damage that affects your liver, and provide recommendations for a healthy liver.
